November 2004

Dear Friends:

As we embark upon the Civil War Library and Research Center's eighth year, we look forward to more opportunities to expand the use and awareness of all that it has to offer.

The Library's success has been primarily due to the tremendous efforts of its volunteers and supporters like you; people who recognize the exceptional value that the Library brings to the further study of the American Civil War.

As we move into our eighth year, your cooperation is essential. Please consider renewing or starting your sponsorship of the Library's programs at one of the three levels below. To thank you for your generosity, a list of benefits at each level of giving is described. Thank you for supporting the Civil War Library and Research Center!
